

CALL FOR POSTER PRESENTATION ABSTRACTS

Health Data Exploration Network Meeting May 2, 2017

Representing the Person

Promoting Social Justice in the Use of Personal Health Data

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: March 24, 2016 (5:00 pm PST)

The Health Data Exploration Project will host their third annual Network meeting on May 2, 2017. The theme of this year's meeting will be "Representing the Person: Promoting Social Justice in the Use of Personal Health Data."

The purpose of the Health Data Exploration Project is to explore barriers and facilitators to the use of personal health data for public good research. The meeting is also an opportunity for members to discuss shared interests and network with innovators in the area of personal health data.

This year the meeting will include a research poster session to present the work of Network members. We are particularly interested in highlighting projects that showcase the use of personal health data for research but all submissions will be considered. Proposals are encouraged from all stakeholders in the personal health data ecosystem: behavioral, clinical and public health researchers, computer scientists, technology and data-related companies, methodologists, data analysts, qualitative researchers and others. Participation by graduate students, post-docs, company interns and the like are particularly encouraged.

Submission Process

Interested individuals should submit a 250-word abstract by March 24th, 2016 to Cinnamon Bloss at cbloss@ucsd.edu. Please organize the abstract information into background, methods, results, and conclusions sections. Also, please send a short biographical sketch for the primary author. Prizes will be awarded for the top three poster presentations, including a special prize for the best proposal from a graduate student, post-doc or company intern!

Best wishes,

The HDE Team
